

LEARNING & DEVELOPMENT • CONVERSATION SKILLS

● LIVE

Oefenkamer

Your training was great. But real life afterwards is where it happens.

Real life starts after the training day, and that is exactly where you have no reach today. Extend your services with practice against a panel of AI counterparts in role-plays: typed or out loud, against a counterpart that pushes back, with feedback on a framework your participants recognise.

— THE PROBLEM

The skill fades before the real conversation

On a training day with eight participants and one trainer playing the counterpart, each person practises for about twenty minutes. The rest of the day they watch. The trainer is the bottleneck, because every repetition needs a person. When the real conversation comes two weeks later, most of the training has faded, and the first real attempt is the live one.

“The training courses are good, and afterwards there is nowhere left to practise.”

TRAINING PARTICIPANT, SOCIAL DOMAIN

≈20 min of real practice per participant on a training day

€450–€1,400 per participant for classroom training in this segment, per our market note

Once the skill is tested: in front of peers, on one scenario, at one difficulty

— WHY BUY

Practice continues where your training stops

Oefenkamer is live and ready to carry your name. Participants rehearse as often as their licence allows, on cases from your field or their own upcoming conversation. Feedback rests on what they literally said, so trainers and programme managers see changeable behaviour instead of attendance counts.

✓ 102 cases across nine domains, at three difficulty grades

✓ Spoken practice against a voice that interrupts and falls silent

✓ Scores observable behaviour; never one number called competence

— TRUST & DATA

✓ Spoken audio travels from browser to speech provider and never through our server; we receive only the transcript.

🔒 No emotion is ever inferred from voice. Scores are hidden from managers by default, and uploaded documents are deleted after reading.

🕒 A privacy file in the product: per-organisation privacy switches, plus a participant-facing page where people see their own data.

WHO IT IS FOR

CHANNEL PARTNER

For training institutes reselling under their own brand

Your own practice environment, sold under your name

- Own login URL, logo, colours, catalogue slice and privacy file; we build and run it.
- Turn one-off training days into recurring revenue from practice between and after sessions.
- Choose fixed fee, price per active user, prepaid bundle or revenue share.

GROWING FIRM

For small coaching and training firms

Give every participant homework that talks back

- Extend your services with practice between sessions, without building a platform.
- Participants rehearse their own upcoming conversation in Eigen kamer, scored on dimensions they choose.
- The mentor gives advice in four blocks, including one sentence to say out loud.

ENTERPRISE & LARGE CONSULTANCY

For large academies, L&D departments and large consultancies

Practice at scale, with evidence of behaviour

- Practice volume no longer depends on trainer hours or group size.
- Rubric feedback anchored in transcripts gives programme managers evidence beyond attendance counts.
- Scores stay hidden from managers by default, a conscious switch for compliance.

HOW IT WORKS

01

Choose

Pick from 102 cases, describe your upcoming conversation in three questions, or build your own in Eigen kamer.

02

Prepare

A six-line card: who is opposite you, the situation, why now, what preceded it, your task and the difficulty.

03

Practise

Typed or out loud, against an AI counterpart that only gives way when genuinely persuaded.

04

Get feedback

A three-layer rubric counts, scores and checks the professional framework. Every point rests on something you literally said.

05

Go further

Optionally see the article a journalist would write, how you sounded, or four-block advice from the mentor.

WHAT YOU GET

01

102 cases

Nine domains, from social care and mental health to media and crisis, three difficulty grades.

02

Spoken practice

A voice counterpart that interrupts, falls silent and holds its position.

03

Rubric feedback

Counting, scoring and framework checks kept separate, each judgement anchored to a quotation.

04

Eigen kamer

Rehearse your own upcoming conversation, built from your situation and your own document.

05

In de krant

See the article a journalist would write, with your own words as the quote.

06

White-label

Partner's own login URL, logo, colours, catalogue and privacy file.

COMMERCIALS

PRICING

Per organisation with a user band. Spoken practice runs on Khaya Credits; 100 credits ≈ one hour of live AI conversation. Fixed fee, per active user, bundle or revenue share.

HOW TO START

See a partner demo environment in a prospect's own brand. We then set up your tenant with your branding, catalogue slice and privacy settings.
